

FENS Virtual Forum & ANA Grants

We are sure all of you know, that the Covid-19 pandemic prevents a “physical” FENS Forum this summer and that FENS has taken an enormous effort and challenge to convert the Forum into a virtual format, which will be online on the same dates: 11-15 July 2020.

Many of you will wonder whether attending a virtual meeting is actually worth the time and money. The ANA Board believes that given the exceptional circumstances a virtual meeting is the best option available to keep promoting European Neuroscience at large.

Hence, ANA strongly encourages his members to participate and contribute to the meeting. To promote this, ANA makes available 35 grants for PhD students and young Postdocs (within 3 years from when they obtained their Doctoral degree), who are members of ANA, to cover up to 75% of the registration fee (calculated on the basis of the Student Member fee). Deadline for applications: 25th May 2020.

Take the chance and be positively surprised by the new solutions and opportunities that a virtual event may offer!

Should you wish anyway to withdraw your registration and get reimbursed 100% of the fee, please be aware that you can do so only before the 22nd April 2020. For further information go to FENS 2020 Virtual Forum FAQ, Cancellation and Reimbursement.

With best wishes

The ANA Board
